

Hello

Customer Care Re-Imagined

We're the conversation company.

B Squared Media is a boutique digital marketing agency and the industry's premier social media customer care specialist. We're re-inventing outsourced customer care by engaging in meaningful online conversations that result in unique market insight, satisfied customers, sales leads, and loyalty.

Our Mantra:

Think Conversation, Not Campaign.™

What's the difference between customer service and customer care?

Customer Care is essentially how well YOU take care of your customers. How much do YOU care? How far will YOU go to find the right solutions for your customers? "Care" is not just transactional, but means a focus on service as a strategic extension of your brand to create new business value.

Social-first Customer Care is actively listening to your would-be and current customers' needs. It's truly proactive (and ongoing). And when we say 'online customer care' we're talking about proactive listening and answering through your website or social media channels.

Wherever you take care of your customers on social media, that's Online Customer Care.

To clarify, here's what online customer care isn't:

It's not customer service.

It's not customer support.

It is one part of customer experience (CX).

How Online Customer Care Creates Unique Value

Increased sales conversions

Unique customer data and insights

World-class customer experience

Speedy complaint resolution

Dramatically lower service costs

Improved customer loyalty

Personalized customer connections

Proactive customer education

AI-powered data analysis and self-service options

Competitive advantage
